
Font Nova washing place

Font Nova washing place The roof in the form of an impluvium.

The Font Nova washing place dates from 1833, a time when Sabadell was growing rapidly. The present building, however, is in the Catalan modernista style and was designed by Miquel Pascual in 1892. It conserves one of the original basins, the roof which serves as an impluvium and the decorated tiles on the façade.
